WELCOME TO...

The Sacred Heart School of Montreal
3635 Atwater Ave,
Montreal, QC
H3H 1Y4

Shawn O'Donnell Principal

Dear Sacred Heart Students,

Congratulations on an outstanding school year, and for achieving so many milestones in academics, the arts, sports, and community service. We are all very proud of your achievements. You have demonstrated time and time again your exceptional leadership skills, your commitment to helping others, and your strong resolve to be the young leaders of tomorrow.

I would also like to congratulate our graduates, a fine class of energetic and creative students who have not only enjoyed an excellent senior year, but who have also had a stellar high school career at Sacred Heart.

The CLASS OF 2017 consists of 53 special young ladies, and collectively they are much more than the sum of their parts. This memory book is dedicated to them, and to all of their accomplishments.

They are caring, supportive and protective, not only of each other, but of other students and their teachers. This class can be fun-loving, silly, and adventurous, but they are also serious, studious and ambitious. They are energetic, socially-aware, focused, strong-willed, creative, intelligent, close-knit and compassionate. They care deeply for each other, but also for the world at large, and they will stand up and defend what is right. They may not always ask "WHY", but they will often ask, "WHY NOT"? They are not afraid to speak the truth and to stay true to themselves. They are REAL!!!!

This brings me to the heart of my message: In this day and age of FAKE NEWS and SCAMS, of instant communications, it is extremely difficult to tell the truth from lies. It is hard to know who is honest and who is not. Not too long ago, TV newscasts and newspapers were considered Gospel, as you knew that the stories were thoroughly researched and vetted before being broadcasted or printed. Today, accusations, lies and innuendos fly all over Social Media, and it is hard to discern what is fact and what is fiction.

So when thinking of this class and talking to their teachers about them, a recurring theme emerged. This group of teenagers speaks the truth; they are honest, and sincere. They are not perfect, and occasionally they do cross the line but one thing is for certain; The Class of 2017 owns up to their mistakes and tells you exactly how they feel. They are forthcoming, trustworthy and genuine. They are also empathetic and unselfish; THEY ARE REAL!!

So Graduates, I encourage you, no I URGE you, to stay REAL after you leave this safe haven. Stay true to yourselves, and true to others. Seek out the truth, and always continue to have the courage et confidence to stand up and defend what is right and just. You have led by example this year, and have been great role models for our younger students. Now go and be great leaders in the next phase of your lives!!!

This year's memory book is another great success! I want to thank our talented and dedicated team, led by faculty editor/advisor, Ms. Michelle Lessey, and outstanding student editors Emma Osmancevic and Rachel Watts. They have worked long and hard to produce a testimonial to our school that we can all be proud of, and I am sure you will agree that they have succeeded! Congratulations, team!

A Message to the Class of 2017....

Erika Rath
Academic Student Coordinator

I am incredibly honored to have this opportunity to congratulate the class of 2017! It has been an absolute pleasure being a part of your high school careers and it's been an exciting 5 years watching you grow into the intelligent, caring, and compassionate young adults you are today. Along with an academically rigorous program, The Sacred Heart School of Montreal has helped each of you develop a strong set of values, sense of community, and Courage et Confiance that will serve you well as you journey outside of these sacred walls. Every day, you have reminded me that I am grateful to work in a place filled with respect, love, and kindness. The Sacred Heart family will miss you, but you will not be forgotten...

"30 years from now it won't matter what shoes you wore, how your hair looked or what jeans you bought; what will matter is what you learned and how you used it."

Danielle Lecuyer
Student Life Coordinator

Your five years has passed in the blink of an eye, yet it's filled with so many amazing memories, important life lessons and meaningful experiences. You should be proud of what you have accomplished so far and look forward to the exciting and challenging path that lies ahead. I wish you a future filled with learning, strength, success, and happiness. Stay true to who you are and remember that Sacred Heart will always be home.

From the Editors

Being the co-editor for the yearbook has been a rewarding and fun challenge. Starting from a blank slate in August, it was hard to imagine all 96 pages being completed. Thanks to our team, we have been able to put together a book full of our school memories. However, the yearbook would not have been possible without Ms Lessey. We have appreciated her guidance and the countless hours of work she has contributed. I am so proud to present the 2016-2017 yearbook!

-Rachel

A very special thanks to Ms McIvor for all her help editing the yearbook!

It has been so much fun co-editing the 2016-2017 yearbook. Creating a yearbook takes time, patience and determination and I am truly proud of what we produced in the end. Thank you to our team and Ms Lessey for all the time and effort you've contributed to these pages. It has been a pleasure to have worked with all of you. I hope you all enjoy recalling the memories from the 2016-2017 school year.

Graduates

Valedictorian Speech

Beata Nawacki

Good afternoon Mr O'Donnell, Faculty, Parents and fellow Graduates. I am extremely honoured and excited to represent my graduating class of 2017 as valedictorian, and speak to you all today. I've had a wonderful high school experience in this "fine institution," from creating relationships with you girls to spending quality time with textbooks that enabled me to be the one standing here today. But rather than focus on the time devoted to actual learning, because let's be real, that comes second to the amazing memories we have all shared and everything and everyone we are going to miss next year once we're thrown into the real world. Which, according to Monica from Friends, "It sucks. You're gonna love it!"

Before we discuss what's yet to come though, let's think about what has happened so far. Considering the memories that we do share, I think it's fair to say, and I think our teachers would agree, that we Sacred girls are off the wall crazy. I say this because never, ever have I met a group of girls so dedicated to avocados. I will remind you that Sabrina Fitz and I actually had avocados engraved on our grad rings, to commemorate all of you. In general though we just love food. It is not uncommon to find one of us cough cough LAUREN DRUMMOND trying to take leftovers from other girls who love to eat. However, we are also loving people and I, along with many others, have been known to give up spare carrots or the bottom of our Mandy salads every once in a while. So, yes we are insane, but as said in Alice in Wonderland, "I'll tell you a secret: all the best people are" and those best people are all you ladies. In all seriousness, I'm extremely happy to be graduating alongside a group of girls that I've had the pleasure of growing up with for the past 5 years. I can't imagine a better group of friends to finish off this stage of our life with, and when I think back on high school, I'm going to think about no, not the cookies we got at detente in Sec 1, no, not the school song being ingrained in us by Ms Martel, and no, not Mr T's catchphrase "cheers." I'm going to remember the great girls I went to school with and miss a whole lot.

Of course, our experience here isn't only characterized by each other, we also have the wonderful teachers and faculty to thank. When we leave today, we are leaving behind an extremely passionate and caring group of people that we are lucky to have encountered at all. I mean, who has enough patience to let us rub his head and call it shiny for 5 years like Mr Reda has, or the stamina to continue trying to instill in us what a theme is, not one word but a sentence, like our English teachers, Ms McIvor, Ms Arella and Ms Lessey have. Ms Rath also dealt with Beccerz teaching her how to throw shade in sec 3, but if we're being honest, Beccerz was probably doing her a favour. As teenagers we are greatly influenced by those around us, and sometimes we forget that that includes teachers. And it just so happens that here we have great role models that remind us how to be patient, passionate about their jobs and also serious when necessary. This year is also very special because we aren't graduating alone. A large number of faculty and staff are graduating with us, going on to bigger and better things in their lives as well. So here's an extra big thank you to Mr Laperle, Ms Martel, Ms Potter, Mr T, Ms Raco, Ms Di Palma, Ms Lakatos and good luck to Ms Lec and Ms Bangs as they go on maternity leave. Just as we are moving on to new stages in our lives that will present new challenges, so are all of you, and that's a great reminder to us graduates, that our lives will continue to change and evolve as we grow older, not only right now.

Some other honorable mentions of things we are going to miss about going to Sacred are traditions like Sports Day, DASHABUSTAD, bonding with other grades in House Meetings and this year's Fun Day. When you start thinking about everything that you're about to leave behind like I did to write this speech, you realize how much you appreciated all those activities and how much you'll miss them next year. But as I am coming to learn, although it's sad to think about leaving each other and also the physical building where we have probably spent the majority of our time for the past 5 years (except Eva of course) behind, it's important to focus on the positives of moving forward.

Everyone is in some way nervous for next year, and also probably a little excited. But when you think about it, CEGEP or grade 12 is just a small clip in the motion picture that is your life. It's there for you to explore your interests, discover more about yourself and then learn some practical things like how to manage time and apply to university, if that's where you're planning on going. And although it will most likely be stressful and annoying just like it was creating your schedules already, which if you haven't, I wish you luck because it made me cry, I encourage you all to take the stress and pressure with a grain of salt, and look at the big picture. Although I'm sure it will be much easier said than done. I'm aware that this year was really difficult for most of us, in many varying ways that I won't get into. But it's important to acknowledge that stress that you have now all endured and got through, and realize that you have the strength to overcome something equivalent to that in the future.

Overall, I want to wish you all good luck, and I hope you don't take these past 5 years for granted. I love you all and congratulations girls.

Messages for...

Serena McMahon

Serena,
We are so proud of you and all your dedication, hard work and achievements at Sacred Heart. You have grown into a beautiful woman ready to conquer the world. Remember that you can do anything you choose to and you have unconditional love and support from all of us.

Love Mum, Dad, Liam, Nani, Nana, Uncle Sam, Uncle Matt and your guardian angels (Chachi, Karen, Chantal, Krystle and Eda)
P.s. Remember, girlfriends are the sisters you choose.

Yiuane Ryan

To my dear Yiuane,

I loved you as a little one, admired you as a teen and I am enjoying getting to know the wonderful young woman you are becoming.
Much love and congratulations
- from your mom!

Hey Mencia!

How's everything going in Madrid? My parents and I miss you so much! It's really different not having you around. I hope you can stay with us in Sicily this summer, that way we can go to the beach every day, like we wanted to :) Unfortunately I can't come to Spain this summer, but maybe next year! I really hope we can see each other soon!!

Un fuerte abrazo,

DEAR GRADUATES

It's time to say goodbye, but I think goodbyes are sad and
I'd much rather say hello. Hello to a new
